A THANKFUL HEART

Garnett Ann Schultz

Oh, let me know a thankful heart,
A heart where love doth dwell,
Where hope and faith and lasting peace
Are known and treasured well,
An ever-understanding heart,
A strength so real and sure,
A heart that ever looks to God
To strengthen and endure.

Oh, give me a thankful heart,
That I may live each day
As though tomorrow shall not come,
No thought of yesterday—
A thankfulness for what I have,
However large or small;
Just let me know a joy complete
To live and last through all.

God, grant I have a thankful heart
For blessings rich and true,
That I shall still accept my lot
With wants and wishes few.
The world is mine with all it brings,
Each lovely day so rare;
Just let me know it's still enough
That You are ever there.

I still must keep a thankful heart,
As years will hurry by,
To know a loveliness more real
That ever lights my eye;
The richest blessing life can send,
With treasurer to impart—
It's this I ask for evermore—
A truly thankful heart.

I never want to be without the wonder of your smile that makes the sun come smiling thru to light each weary mile

I do not want to take a breath unless your mine to share with your love to guide me on life would be hard to bear

I never want to take a step unless your by my side with you the journey through the years is like a joyful ride to go the way alone would be impossible to do for more than anything in life
my greatest need is you.

CRUISE ON THE ST. LAWRENCE RIVER

By Maj. Gen. (R) John A. Kunkleman, Past Dept. Commander

In August, Lady Reta and I tried something new. A six-night cruise up the St. Lawrence River aboard the MS Canadian Empress.

The vessel and the crew were much different from what we are accustomed to in our paddlewheel steamboat travels.

But the cruise was very enjoyable and educational and we made many new friends from both the United States and Canada while on board.

The Canadian Empress is 108 feet long, has a 30-foot beam, with 32 staterooms and can carry 66 passengers.

On our cruise there were just under 50 passengers, served by a crew of 13. We boarded in Quebec City and left the ship in Kingston, Ontario.

While we made a number of stops and had interesting land tours, we did not have time for roaming on our own to look for Odd Fellow buildings. Our stops kept us bouncing back and forth from Canada to the U.S. and we did have to clear customs several times (with no trouble).

We didn't find any Odd Fellow buildings. But we did have the following experience.

One day at lunch we shared a table with Don and Evelyn Carr, of Ontario. In the course of the table talk they mentioned they live in Sarnia, Ontario. So to let them know I was familiar with the name of their home town, I said:

"Back in the 1970s I got to know and become a friend of a man from Sarnia at international meetings of the Odd Fellows. His name was Elmer Teft."

Don looked at me and said:

"Elmer Teft? You knew Elmer Teft? I worked with Elmer Teft and his sister and his mother and father!"

Elmer Teft served as General Commanding of the Patriarchs Militant Army of the World and was coming up through the offices of the General Military Council when I was Department Commander and serving in the GMC.

I wonder if Lady Dottie Stanley, APP, remembers having a dance with Gen. Teft on that boat ride we took up the Ohio River during the Sovereign Grand Lodge session in Cincinnati?

Lady Reta and I especially liked the part of the cruise which took us in among the Thousand Islands. They tell us there are exactly 1870 islands in the chain.

Lady Reta and Maj. Gen. (R) John A. Kunkleman prepare to board the MS Canadian Empress during a six night cruise from Quebec City to Kingston, Ontario, on the St. Lawrence River.

We were amazed at how many of the islands are inhabited. There are houses and cottages on some islands just big enough for the structure. Of course those folks have no lawns to mow.

We visited basilicas and shrines, the Upper Canada Village, the famous Boldt Castle, and many other points of interest.

And we probably will consider another trip on the Canadian Empress, this time on the cruise which includes Ottawa.

And then there was the trip home. We flew out of Kingston late Monday afternoon to Toronto. We made it but one of our bags disappeared. Then our flight to Philadelphia was cancelled due to severe thunderstorms. After a night in an airport motel, we got through customs and to Philadelphia Tuesday morning – still missing one suit case. It was finally delivered to Fleetwood Wednesday afternoon.

But, as they say, a good time was had by all.

SCHOLARSHIP THANK YOU'S

Dear Odd Fellows:

Thank you for the education award money. I plan to put it towards my tuition payment. I really enjoy school and plan on working hard. Thanks again for the award and your encouragement to do well.

Sincerely,
Amy Rineir

Dear Mr. McHugh,

I would like to thank all the members of Odd Fellow and Rebekah Lodges for the scholarship. It is greatly appreciated and will be put to good use. I am happy to tell you I made the Dean's List again the second semester with a 4.0. This summer I am working at Flamini Pharmacy to gain some experience in my major. Thank you again.

Sincerely,
Ashley Zigmant

Dear. Thomas J. McHugh,

I was extremely pleased to find that I had been chosen to receive one of the scholarship awards that you had offered. I greatly appreciate the scholarship money and I can guarantee that it will be put to good use in furthering my education. Thank you very much for your generosity.

Sincerely,
Abbey Esbenshade

P.O.F. DAYS GONE BY75 YEARS AGO
(November 1929)10TH DISTRICT PROGRESSIVE ASSOCIATION

The Tenth District Progressive Association held a combined meeting of all the Lodges in the District on Tuesday, November 19th, in the hall of Kenderton Lodge No. 266, which was attended by 250 members and proved to be a big success.

Music was furnished by the Band of Medina Sanctorum. These Brothers deserve a lot of credit for their willingness to tender their services at any time for the good of the Order, and they are a big asset to the Fraternity. The entertainment aside from the Band consisted of a showing of the pictures of the new power plant at the Home for Aged at Middletown which were shown for the first time at this meeting. Three acts of vaudeville were also well received.

The meeting was in charge of Joseph Smith, D.D.G.M., who introduced the various speakers, including George B. McDowell, Grand Master; Usher A. Hall, Grand Secretary; John N. Mark, Grand Representative; Robert Mullken, Grand Patriarch; Samuel S. Bowen, P.G.P. Brother William Ginn of Fame Lodge No. 778, and Senior Warden Harry C. Stephens.

After the entertainment refreshments were served by Kenderton Lodge, and cigars by the Association, the meeting was voted a big success.

Four of the five Lodges composing this district are at present taking in new members.

The Lodges of this District will conduct the Religious Services at the Home for Orphans on Sunday afternoon, January 19th, at 3 o'clock, and every lodge in the District should be represented at this service.

CORRY

Crawford Lodge No. 734 of Meadville, conferred the Third Degree on a class at Jonathan Lodge No. 685, on Wednesday, November 20. The visiting brothers were met and escorted to the hall by local Odd Fellows and the parade attracted attention to the event.

A BIT OF BIBLE TRIVIAThe Center of the Bible

This is pretty strange or odd how it all works out. Even if you are not religious you should read the following.

What is the shortest chapter in the Bible? A. Psalm 117

What is the longest chapter in the Bible? A. Psalm 119

What chapter is in the center of the Bible? A. Psalm 118

Fact: There are 594 chapters before Psalm 118

Fact: There are 594 chapters after Psalm 118

Add these numbers up and you get 1188.

What is the center verse in the Bible? A. Psalm 118:8

Does this verse say something significant about God's perfect will for our lives? The next time someone says they would like to find God's perfect will for their lives and that they want to be in the center of HIS will, just send them to the center of HIS word!

Psalm 118:8 (NKJV) "It is better to trust in the LORD than to put confidence in man."

Now isn't that odd how this worked out (or was God in the center of it?)

A series of dances have been conducted by a committee of Jonathan Lodge for a number of weeks and have attracted large crowds.

AMBRIDGE

Clover Lodge held a dance in the Elks Temple here on Tuesday, November 19.

The Degree Staff and members of the Clover Lodge visited Coraopolis Lodge No. 429, on Thursday, November 14, and conferred the First Degree.

A benefit entertainment was on the program for Tuesday, December 10. The proceeds were for the Ralph McKee and Jack Landies Christmas Fund. It was to be held in the Baden High School and local talent was to provide the program.

The Senators are leading the Clover bowling league and Brother Shomo is leading the individual averages with a percentage of .547.

25 YEARS AGO
(November 1979)DELAWARE VISITATION

Lady Alice M. O'Brien, A.P.P., Sisters Dorothy Brown, P.R.A., and Sara Bonson, R.A. Marshal, all attended the Delaware Rebekah Assembly Sessions November 1, 1979.

They hold their sessions in one day, and it's interesting to see Delaware do their work.

A delicious lunch was served in the afternoon, and a lovely banquet in the evening.

The installation of the Rebekah Assembly Officers was held in the evening. We were all treated royally, and many new friendships were made.

75TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

On Saturday, November 3, 1979, the Florence Joslyn Rebekah Lodge #287, celebrated their 75th Anniversary with a roast beef dinner at the Linwood Hights Methodist Church, Linwood, PA.

The ladies of the church, under the direction of Sister Louise Koch, #287, cooked and served the dinner, which was delicious.

Sister Ester Downs made crocheted roses in the form of a corsage, and each Lady was presented with one in her choice of color. They were very pretty.

After the dinner, the entertainment was "Fun With Flo" - "Flo" played the piano, and told cute jokes, and had all present laughing up a storm. We all sang "I'm In Love With Esther" (cause she made the nice corsages), and then we sang "I'm In Love With You Frankie" (for Frank O'Brien, who made a hit with "Flo"), and Sisters Doris Wooley, Susan McKeown, and Alice O'Brien danced the polka. After this all joined in with the "Alley Cat," and then Pat Eachus and Virginia McMullen joined in with the "Hokey Pokey." All had a great time.

Sister Susan McKeown, D.D.P., gave a history of the Lodge which was of great interest to all present.

It was a crazy evening, one of the lots of "sing along's," dancing, and to close the evening, everyone won a prize of some type.

Florence Joslyn can be proud of their anniversary celebration. It was good fellowship, great entertainment, a night of Rebekah Odd Fellowship to be long remembered. Thanks, Florence Joslyn!

BLOOD DRIVE AT WALKER LODGE

On Monday, September 27th, Walker Lodge held a blood drive to help supply the American Red Cross with some much needed blood. It was successful from the standpoint of meeting our goal for the driver (25 pints) and we had the support of the members as well as some people from the community come an donate. The chair, Bruce Paynter, is looking ahead and planning for another. Remember, if there is a blood drive in your area to support it. Blood is in short supply, especially around the holiday times.

FORWARD TO TERRORISM AND PRIMER

by Harold W. Gray #306

I am History Museum Outreach Officer of the Armed Forces of the United States of America, by virtue of my History Museum Outreach Officers' Primer being the bible, constitution and digest of decisions of American military history museum outreach, all of which has been promulgated since the primer was written in 1992.

Today, our country urgently needs me O-3 through O-6 to establish my professional history museum outreach officers in the armed forces. To that end, I suggest you do what you can to help. Thank you.

Forms of history museum outreach officers have existed since primitive history museum endeavors of the 19th century resulted in the development of history museum in the armed forces.

History museum outreach officers are today an institution and all noncommissioned, petty, warrant, and commissioned officers of the armed forces are history museum outreach officers by virtue of their position. The sooner you qualify yourself the better.

The director of history wrote the chief of staff that they needed a dedicated soldier. That I was given their consideration was a highlight of the first decade of my military career.

I commenced the second decade of my military career by creating a history exhibit that became a history museum. It was viewed at a reserve training center on Armed Forces Day 1970. This was followed by the creation of a second history exhibit. Both were donated to history museums.

I joined professional organizations related to history museums and created a proposal to build a history museum. This was followed by the creation of a proposal to build history museums nationwide.

In January of 1980 the third decade of my military career began when I discovered an armed forces history museum. To this day I have been responsive to its outreach.

Sister Mary DeLong, Assembly PP, was in the middle of things at the first annual HAMBURG - ER DAY, in Hamburg recently. The Pennsylvania Beef Council selected the North Berks County Borough for the official celebration of the 100th anniversary of the hamburger. Sister Mary's Third Street Cafe tent was one of nearly a score of food establishments serving the ground beef delights. "No hot dogs permitted!" Sister Mary's tent was pitched at Third and State Street, a half block from her restaurant.

I commenced research and development of military history museum activities for my former branch of the armed forces.

I created history museum activities for education and training programs. They achieved organizational goals from the historic. I created history museum activities resulting in hands-on participation by targeted personnel.

Although I had often said I practiced the museum profession as an avocation, I was in fact owner and operator and director and curator of a history museum specializing in outreach.

Military outreach had evolved as a profession when I entered the fourth decade of my military career and I was at the forefront.

Why create?

From conception through original research and development to accomplished mission there is a corps of professionals in being to lead you in better serving as a history museum outreach officer.

Why apprenticeship?

Professional history museum outreach officers serve a seven year apprenticeship prior to assuming their duties.

They spend two years as O-3s (captain/lieutenant) learning history museum outreach, five years as O-4s (major/lieutenant commander) learning history museum activities, and the rest of their lives as O-5s (lieutenant colonel/commander) leading history museum outreach.

Why retiree?

The armed forces have paragons of military virtue in the person of retired members. Often they have a generation of experience in one of hundreds of military occupational fields. Highly desirable are those members with historical expertise in their field. Although a B-52 bomber pilot who is an expert on military uniforms and an aircraft carrier cook who is a scholar on military biography are equally desirable backgrounds.

Each has been historically minded for a generation.

Each has been a teacher for a generation.

Each has been responsible for their own self-development for a generation.

Now they are going to work their environment as only then can.

As intelligence is the ability to accept change, the retired member of the armed forces will readily adjust to the seven year apprenticeship necessary to become a history museum outreach officer. The operative word for all they do remains leadership.

Why command?

History museum outreach officers have at least a generation of experience which has taught them better than to interfere in the command.

History museum outreach officers do everything with the support of the command and what is not authorized by the command is not permitted.

Why history?

It is axiomatic that the study of history is indispensable to members of the armed forces.

Why museum?

As you have to pick up a history book and read it to get the message you have to visit a history museum and experience it to get the message.

The more you read and talk about history the more you appreciate the history museum. It is by its very nature an educational institution and a training aid for the troops.

Why outreach?

Outreach is construed by outreach officers only.

Why activities?

History museum outreach officers suggest activities and from their experience they are listened to.

Myriads of activities imaginatively contrived.

Area observation orders for historical purposes.

A unit participating in two weeks annual history museum activities for training and education purposes.

Each member of the armed forces makes an annual visit to a history museum:

- A) The member spends the day alone inside the museum.
- B) The following day the member spends the day writing a report on lessons learned in the museum the preceding day.

The compilation of documented activities will ever be a resource from generation to generation.

Then there is the spoken word.

Like an instructor at a war college or a corporal instructing the M-60 machine gun, all is to fight better. Sergeant, spend the next month at the museum researching a fifty minute presentation on bayonet fighting.

Out of a 1979 Magazine It applies today as well as then.

A MEMBER

A member is the most important person in this organization.
A member is not dependent on us – we are dependent on him.

A member is not an interruption of our work – he is the purpose of it.

A member does us a favor when he joins our organization – we are not doing him a favor by administering to his needs.

A member is part of our organization – not an outsider.

A member is not a cold statistic – he is a flesh and blood human being with feelings and emotions like our own.

A member is not someone to argue or match wits with – but someone to work and build with.

A member is deserving of the most courteous and attentive treatment we can give him.

A member is a person who brings us Time, Talent, and Resources – it is our responsibility to give him a sense of Belonging, Personal Satisfaction, and Personal Development.

A member is the life blood of this organization.

Why combat?

History museum outreach officers are welcomed any place. And who are they but the combat leaders of our prior wars.

The range of history museum outreach officers is from preparedness to leading military history museum outreach in combat. They go where they think they are needed. At all times.

Why unpaid?

The principle is that history museum outreach officers do not accept pay for their services as history museum outreach officers. If for some reason they are paid they donate the money to the government.

Regulations are always changing in the armed forces and until the next change history museum outreach officers survive economically as follows:

- A) They receive their earned retirement pay.
- B) They receive certain benefits and allowances of an active duty officer of their outreach officer rank.
- C) They receive no expenses.
- D) They are not permitted to make money.

In the absence of government money for B above, each member of the armed forces donate a dollar a year.

Why successful?

Each history museum outreach officer is owner and operator and director and curate of a history museum specializing in outreach.

History museum outreach officers know how to find the troops. They are at the depot swimming pool, post restaurant, base grocery store, fort golf course, station chapel and other such places.

History museum outreach officers lead military history museum outreach wherever the troops go.

The most frequent questions asked outreach officers is where is your museum? The answer is between our ears. And that is successful military history museum outreach.

When you want to find a history museum outreach officer they are always in the field. Look for them in the field they are at the point. Although outreach officers may choose to work out of physical plants where they are invited to consult. If they have time, of course. And if you can find them.

But, don't be surprised if some morning when the lights come on at reveille a history museum outreach officer is sitting on top of a trash can in the barracks. When the officer is seen attention is sounded. The troops line up like rows of corn at the foot of their bunks. The outreach officer announces world series tickets to the airman who can cite the combat record of the second Air Force chief of staff.

A history museum outreach officer dressed like General Benedict Arnold pestering golfers with thrilling tales of the leading combat general and then changing cloths to parachute into a special forces camp in enemy territory with an air delivered self-destruct library and museum pallet.

I know.

We never did it this way before.

In a sense, history museum outreach officers do not exist but keep their place leading history museum outreach from behind. They work well with the individual.

Why prudence?

Although I knew I was right, it took me a few years just to get going in the first place. I didn't want to shed one drop of American blood on account of what I was doing.

It all reminds me of an old retired Coast Guard warrant officer/history museum outreach officer telling me many years ago that I "ought to go into the museum business."

It didn't sound right.

And it made me wonder about him.

Why administer?

Each branch of the armed forces has its own history museum outreach officer O-6 (colonel/captain) to administer professional history museum outreach offices for that branch.

The O-6 is elected by the branch professional outreach officers from their three most senior, serves no more than five years and reverts to O-5 (lieutenant colonel/commander). A temporary additional duty wherein the O-5 outreach duties continue to be performed.

This could mean a candidate might be a retired lieutenant colonel or a retired chief petty officer who served the seven years apprenticeship of a history museum outreach officer followed hopefully by at least ten years practice as a history museum outreach officer and then assume the O-6 duties at say age sixty-five and revert to O-5 at age seventy.

Why adversity?

I packed a 103 piece major exhibit into a large old 1964 sedan, drove along the coast half the day, and delivered the contents to a maritime museum, saying the world isn't interested in the storms you've encountered, but did you bring in the ship?

I brought in 20 ship models that day.

Experience is the way of history museum outreach offices.

DEGREE RALLY AT WALKER LODGE

The Annual Degree Rally was held at Walker Lodge on Saturday, September 25, 2004. The Initiatory, First, Second and Third Degrees were offered as well as the Grand Lodge Degree. Fifteen received the Initiatory Degree and eighteen received the Degrees of Friendship, Love and Truth. The Walker Degree Staff performed these degrees. The Grand Master of PA and several of his Staff did the Grand Lodge degree for those who were eligible. All present enjoyed a lunch prepared by a few of the wives of Walker Lodge members. All in attendance had an enjoyable day of Odd Fellowship.

We need to continue to grow our membership. Have you asked a friend (or relative) to join lately? Spread the word about the wonderful things our Order does. Show your enthusiasm and it will attract others.

Why resource?

History museum outreach officers are a prime resource for those who have the good fortune to work with one.

Why costs?

History museum outreach officers operated on a basis of no cost to the government.

Why staff?

History museum outreach officers have no staff or anyone to issue an order to.

Why serve?

History museum outreach officers just continue to better serve as they have throughout their careers.

Why casualties?

History museum outreach officers serve without limbs and with any condition which permits them to perform their duties.

Why recruit?

Professional history museum outreach officers recruit history museum outreach officers to become professional history museum outreach officers.

Why flag?

History museum outreach officers exist for members of the armed forces below flag rank.

Why academy?

I did a one year history museum activities study of a military academy.

Why 50/50?

History museum outreach officers are encouraged to spend half their time working on history museum activities of interest to them.

Why somebody?

A history museum outreach officer in the armed forces is somebody.

Why health?

History museum outreach officers are physically fit for their circumstances.

Why endeavors?

For every success contrived by a history museum outreach officer there will be many unknown failures.

It takes years to develop armed forces personnel.

When it comes to military history museum outreach, if the shoe fits, wear it.

Why bearing?

Appearance is everything for a history museum outreach officer.

Why who?

History museum outreach officers are any retired member of the armed forces who has requested the duty and was selected.

The history museum outreach officer selection board is composed of history museum outreach officers.

Danielle Stevens talked about a girl with arthritis since she was four years old. She attended Camp JRA and later became a counselor. She graduated from college and is now working for the Central Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation. That girl happens to be Danielle Stevens. Congratulations, Danielle on your great achievement!!

The entertainment for the evening was audience participation. There was one skit and three TV game shows. This skit was made up of the three newest members of Mt. Zion. The participants for the game shows selected in the beginning the charity of their choice for their winnings. They were either Camp JRA-Arthritis or Visual Eye Research with $297.50 for Camp JRA and $107.50 for Visual Eye Research.

It was a great evening of Odd Fellowship!
