FROM THE DESK OF THE GRAND SECRETARY

Dear Readers:

Session went fairly well. There was no increase in the Grand Lodge Dues, but the SGL Dues continues to go up. I was disappointed in the small attendance at session. I would think every one would have an interest in how our Order's business is being conducted. It is your Grand Lodge and if you do not attend, how does anyone know how you want things done. It is said the lodges can't afford to send a representative. You can't afford not to send one. If money is the problem have a fund raiser just for that purpose. This is the time of year to have ice cream socials. Next year Session is being shortened and the room rates will be going down. Now is the time to start thinking about raising the funds to send your representative in June of 2009. If you work at it we could have twice as many representatives at session next year

I am requesting you send articles for the magazine, it is your magazine lets make it the best ever. Let the other Lodges in the Jurisdiction know what you are doing to get new members it could help those lodges that are having problems getting new members. Also they would be interested in your fund raising projects, they may get some new ideas.

Fraternally,
William L. Locke
Grand Secretary

MIDDLETOWN HOME NEWS

This year Home Day will have a German touch. The theme includes a German menu and Polka Music for all to enjoy! Residents look forward to having a party-like atmosphere to socialize with friends and family.

Special events throughout the month include bus trips to a Fire House bingo, Grantville/Hershey "Hollywood Casino", and an old fashioned ice cream parlor.

Residents that belong to Gardening Club have been getting their hands dirty planting flowers in The Home's new courtyard and then enjoying the fruits of their labor by relaxing amongst them and socializing with others.

Cooking Club is active making chef's salads for resident's meals. The members have said it makes them feel like they are at home when they do this.

Residents who enjoy helping others are doing tasks such as sewing wheelchair bags and putting scanning stickers on cans of supplements. They are residents who also like to keep their hands busy and enjoy having a sense of purpose.

Culture change is happening at The Middletown Home!

Don Bachman plants a flag in the Strasburg Cemetery for each soldier who has died in the Iraq War.

By Cindy Stauffer, New Era Staff Writer

Jeffrey F. Deprimo. Keisha H. Morgan. Joseph A. Moore. Benjamin K. Brosh. Davy N. Weaver. Cherie L. Morton. Orlando A. Perez. Luke S. Runyan. Timothy P. Martin.

Each one of these fallen soldiers — a car detailer from Pittston; a chaplain from Boise, Idaho; a young kid from Biloxi, Miss., who loved handing out soccer balls to Iraqi kids — will have their very own flag in Strasburg Cemetery by the time Don Bachman and his helpers are finished today.

Strasburg Cemetery is decked out for Flag Day Saturday. Strasburg resident Don Bachman organized a group of people to decorate the cemetery with 4,591 flags, one for each soldier killed in the Iraq War. The flags went up on Memorial Day and will come down tomorrow.

Since the Iraq War began in 2003, Bachman has stuck a small flag in the ground at the cemetery for each U.S. soldier killed in the battle. The soldiers' hometowns are from all around the country.

The first year, when there were just 100 or so deaths by Memorial Day, the 73-year-old Strasburg man put flags in the ground by himself.

He never imagined how much those numbers would grow over the next five years.

Now that the deaths have reached 4,079, Bachman has enlisted the help of Boy Scouts, senior citizens, area veterans and whoever else showed up today at the small cemetery on Franklin Street to put flags in the ground for Memorial Day weekend.

Don Bachman displays photos of two soldiers who have died in the Iraq War, including Brandon Hardy from Cochranville (front), at the Strasburgh Cemetery.

Bachman, a fire equipment salesman, thinks about each person who gave their life as he carefully plants the flags in the ground. He hopes passersby who see the growing collection do too.

"It's hard to explain," he says, pausing, his voice growing thick. "I just think it need to be put out there, for people to realize freedom isn't free."

A lifelong Strasburg resident, Bachman has spent his life helping out around the small historic town southeast of Lancaster.

When he was a kid, during World War II, he used to go sit in a shed near Lampeter and spot planes with his dad, whose nickname was "Brick" and who ran the town's funeral business. Bachman wanted to enlist in the service, to serve during the Korean War. But he was a skinny kid and flunked the physical, something he regrets to this day.

As the years went by, Bachman poured his energies into working, raising a family of four with his wife, Hope, and helping with projects in his community, where he serves as a borough council and water authority member.

In the 1990s, he raised money to put up a flag pole and a monument at the Strasburg Park and a war memorial in Strasburg's square.

IN TRIBUTE

Flags were placed in the Strasburg Cemetery, Friday, for each American killed in the line of duty in Iraq.

Every year on Dec. 7, Pearl Harbor Day, he puts up a Christmas tree, made out of more than 6,000 red, white and blue lights, on the Main Street in Strasburg. Each light represents soldiers who died in Pearl Harbor, the Iraq War and local veterans who have died.

After he started the Iraq War flag project, he initially bought himself, spending close to $5,000. This year, the Strasburg Sportsmen Association contributed 900 flags to the project.

Bachman is particular about the way the flags are displayed. He and a buddy stretch a string as guide to make sure the flags march down the cemetery's road in straight rows. They make a neat rectangle in another area, where 1,000 or so flags will be clustered.

He does other special things to honor the Iraq War soldiers at the cemetery. Bachman displays a star made out of flags, solar-powered candles, military flags, photos of soldiers and a large number one made out of white carnations, one carnation for each of the 184 Pennsylvania soldiers killed in the war.

"That was somebody's son, daughter husband, or wife — somebody's 'number one' in their family," he says of the display.

The family of Brandon Hardy, a Cochranville Marine who was killed in 2006, came last year to help put up flags.

Bachman says he hopes the display, which will remain until Flag Day, June 14, means something to soldiers' families, and to others who see the flags.

"It's a tribute to those who have given their lives," he says, "to give us our freedom."

MYSTIC LODGE HAS RIGHT IDEA

We learn that Mystic Lodge No. 270 has put into effect an idea that is well worth copying. It invites one of the several church groups, men's associations, or Bible classes to enjoy a social hour with the brothers at the close of the Lodge meeting. At this writing the Bible classes of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches have been entertained and results are bound to follow. Mystic Lodge continues to initiate small classes of 3 or 4. One of the results of church association visitations is the acquisition of the Rev. Arthur F. Gibson of Eddington who recently joined.

WILLOW GROVE PICNIC

A record crowd, approximately 15,000, attended the I. O. O. F. Picnic at Willow Grove on Saturday, August 1st. A rather remarkable fact is that for eight or more consecutive years no rain has fallen at Willow Grove on the first Saturday in August. The Past Grand's' Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania chose that day for the annual outing. Surely the weather man is good to them.

GRAND LODGE OFFICERS OUTING

The second annual outing of the Grand Lodge Officers and their Ladies took place along the Susquehanna River at West Falls, PA, Saturday and Sunday, August 8th and 9th. A meeting of D.D.G.M.'s with the Grand Master was held at Scranton, Saturday evening, in the Hall of Israel Lodge. A fine dinner was served by the Scranton brethren and a most interesting discussion of the plans of the Grand Master was engaged in. After a buffet luncheon a number returned to the Pursell-Shannon cottage at West Falls and the 22 present simply had a fine time until the wee small hours of the morning. Sunday School was held on the porch with 26 present, collection being sent to the local Sunday School at Suttet. Plenty of eats, good bathing, and good fellowship marked the occasion. This annual event is eagerly looked forward to by all who participate.

FIVE COUNTY RALLY PICNIC

On August 13, 1983, at Northmoreland Park near Vandergrift was the scene of the First Five County Rally Picnic. Dinner was held at 12:30 with Bertha Reitz and Ines Whitehead in charge of the dinner. Charles Kelly was in charge of registration and was assisted by Robert Kantorski. They also took care of the 50/50 raffle.

The afternoon was spent in various games and sports for young and old. This event was in charge of Fred M. See. During the afternoon all were thrilled by the Skydivers who were performing at their base several hundred feet away.

The evening meal was held at 5:30 P.M. and was well attended. As the picnic was held all day some came for one meal and others for both. Most came and enjoyed the entire day.

Among the dignitaries attending were Deputy Grand Master Howard L. Chew and his wife, Rebekah Assembly Vice President Helen Dinco and her husband, Grand Warden Gail Kent and his wife, and Past Grand Patriarch Ernest Nelson.

In addition to the brothers and sisters from far and near, we were happy to have guests from Florida and England.

All who attended had a good time and are looking forward to another, next year. The picnic was chaired by James C. Whitehead.

EAST BRUNSWICK LODGE # 802 ANNUAL FAMILY PICNIC

The Annual Family Picnic of East Brunswick Lodge # 802 was held on Sunday, August 7, 1983 at the Fireman's Grove in New Ringgold. And as usual, there was more than ample food for everyone. Ralph Gearhart and Robert Snyder, both residents of the Odd Fellows Home in Middletown were in attendance, and they really had an enjoyable day. It was also good to see Earl and Emily Leiby, and John and Katherine Schell present. The Brothers of East Brunswick Lodge deserve a lot of Credit and praise for the work, time, and effort that they put into the functions that the Lodge sponsors. It would be greatly appreciated if more members and friends would support these hard working, dedicated Brothers.

I might add that they have fixed up their Lodge building by tiling the dining and kitchen area. The lodge Hall and stairs have been carpeted, and they really have a beautiful place in which to meet and have some of their social affairs.

Baseball Picnic

Another of our fun activities is fast approaching. Our annual trip to see the Spikes play, and of course that which we do best is eat. The picnic that we include goes well with everyone on our list of attendees. Reservations are due by July 21st. Please call early these seats go fast. 10 are already spoken for, call the Hall office (814-237-1575) and leave your name and the number in your party. If you don't like talking to the machine, call 237-3993 and my wife will be glad to write your name on the list. Of course you could get our machine if we are not home. Remember as usual this is limited to Odd Fellows, Rebekahs, family members and prospective members of our lodges. Questions call me or Bob Homan.

Dinners this Fall

Our fund raising activities this year will be centered around dinners at the Hall. The first will be Spaghetti with salad and dessert. The date is not fixed as yet but will be late September. Date will be published in the August Letter. If you are interested in helping let us know. Talk to me or Bob Homan or Mackie Levine. We are always in need of willing hands.

Dinner Theatre

Just a report. We had a fun time after a good dinner at the State College Elks Country Club. We journeyed to Boal Barn, our Summer Theatre venue in the Centre Region. We always pick a musical. Most of us prefer them as opposed to a drama, which sometimes can get heavy. This year it was called "Nunsense". Funny, fast and enjoyable.

UN Tour Bus

This is something we do every year. I have yet to hear anyone who helps complain about the work of the activity. These kids are on their way home and winding down from one of the most exciting activities of their young lives. You would be amazed at their comments about the friends they have made, the things they have seen. There are always some students from Europe in the group. It is amazing how they all become friends and learn from each other. They are here for dinner on Sunday the 13th and breakfast on Monday the 14th. If you are interested in helping talk to one of our members, Odd Fellow or Rebekah. I have yet to hear anyone say they didn't have a good time.

Bits and pieces

Our new trees, planted last year, are coming on great this year. I have already reported that the tulips were beautiful. We are often asked what else goes on during the year. Well the place is busy. The Centre Community Church of Christ meets every Sunday morning. Sunday afternoons are taken up with one of the square dance groups in our area. Monday evenings are set aside for Lodge 1032 and Lady Emily #452. Tuesday and Thursday evenings are Mary Kay ladies and Pampered Chef ladies. Tall Cedars are here once a month. Many weekdays are taken up by the School District. We keep busy...See you in church... kk

ODD FELLOWS PRESENT EDUCATIONAL AWARDS TO GRADUATING SENIORS

Cussewago Lodge No. 108, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Meadville, has awarded three memorial educational awards to graduating seniors of Crawford Central School District. They are given in memory of members who passed on during the current year.

Receiving the award at Meadville Area Senior High School was Cameron Eddy. The award is given in memory of Past Grand Ralph Hickman. Hickman served his country as a member of the Air Force, and his community by being a member of West Mead and county fire police. He was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows for more than 40 years.

Receiving the awards at Cochranon Area High School were Stephanie Steider and Leirin Baker.

Steider's award is in memory of past Grand Carl Miller. Miller was one of the two 80-plus-year-old members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in the United States. He served his community as a merchant in Cochranon for many years, and his church faithfully. He also served as a fire policeman for many years after his retirement. He was nearly 100 years of age when he passed away.

Baker received the education award in memory of Past Grand Hugh Eugene Peterson of Cochranon. Peterson had served his country in the United States Army, and his community and church faithfully. He had been employed at Meadville Forge for many years and was a self-employed farmer. He was a member for more than 55 years of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

A MESSAGE FROM THE GRAND PATRIARCH

Our Unified Session is now over and all the officers for the 2008-2009 term have been installed. First, I want to thank everyone for their confidence in me and for electing me to my second term as Grand Patriarch. I hope I can fulfill your expectations.

On June 7, 2008, the Grand Encampment held a degree rally at William F. Packer Encampment #127. As Grand Patriarch, I want to thank William F. Packer Encampment for their hospitality and dedication to Patriarchal Odd Fellowship.

Our day began around 9:30 a.m. with a Grand Encampment Board Meeting. At 10:30 a.m., the degree team conferred the Patriarchal Degree under the direction of Charles Shorten, Past Grand Marshall. Normally, Bill Hilt is in charge of this degree, however, he was unable to attend therally due to family illness.

Around noon we borke for a delicious lunch which was served by the ladies of Kossuth L.E.A. Then at 1:30 p.m., it was back to work with the Golden Rule Degree under the direction of Maynard J. ernst, Grand Treasurer. Finally, our favorite degree, the Royal purple Degree, under the direction of Craig R. Reinhart, was completed about 4:00 p.m. There were no candidates for the Grand Encampment Degree.

Dinner was served in the lodge socail hall at 4:30 p.m. Approximately 48 patriarchs and matriarchs attended teh rally with 11 new patriarchs receiving their degrees. It was truly a great day for Patriarchal Odd Fellowship.

We have made some strides in the Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania this past year. We initiated 11 new Patriarchs at the Johnstown rally and last fall at the Degree Rally in Bushkill 8 new Patriarchs were initiated, a total of 19 new Patriarchs this past year. We must encourage even more Odd Fellows in the coming year to become Patriarchs.

In 1994, trhe Degree Conferral at Bushkill Encampment was vidoetaped as the Degrees were conferred. This was apporved at Sovereign Grand lodge. While I was a t hte Unified Session, I gave those video tapes to Past Grand Master Tom McHugh and asked him to convert the VHS tape to DVD. When this process is complete and the DVDs are available. I will give each Districvt Deputy Grand Patriarch a copy of the DVD so that he can obligate new Patriarchs using the DVD and allow them to attend meetings, until the members can actually attend a degree rally. These DVDs will remain the property ofthe Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania and must be retained by the District Deputy Grand Patriarchs of the various districts. I want to stress that these DVDs do not replace our degree rallies. It is the duty of the Encampment receiveing teh new members to see that the new patriarch atend a degree rally to see the dramatic conferral of teh degrees in person.

I hope you will answer the call when I ask for your help this coming year. Be an inspiration to those who know you as a representative of our Order.

Emilie J. Cupp, Grand Patriarch

FROM THE DESK OF THE DEPARTMENT COMMANDER

Barney Wells had always had a job during the depression. He taught high school English and did some farming on the side. When 1941 came around, the depression seemed to be ending, most of his lodge brothers were back to work, if they had ever been out of work. He was able to sell his farm products for a little more money and he was thinking of taking some sort of vacation. Early August was a time when he could get away before he needed to do the harvesting. His sons were old enough to look after the farm and keep up with the sweet corn sales. Barney's wife didn't like to travel and would never take a vacation, so he never went either. The annual Rebekah session was about all the time she was willing to spend away from home.

With the above in mind, Barney was looking for some sort of vacation he could take without his wife. When he came to the first meeting in May, he was surprised to find two brothers handing out advertisements for a fishing trip to Canada. Barney liked to fish, or rather he liked. or rather he liked to eat fish. He never had time to do much fishing and his farm was not near any body of water with many fish longer than a few inches. The pictures of the salmon were most appealing. He thought his wife wouldn't mind too much and he wanted to get away for a while.

The trip was arranged and on Friday, August 1, 1941, Barney and three members of his lodge packed their fishing gear and belongings on a train and headed for British Columbia. The train ride took four days of 24 hours (with some lost time for transfers and lay overs). On Tuesday, August 5, 1941, the brothers were met at the station in Prince George by Jim Talltree, a member of a local lodge. Jim was a fishing guide who had taken numerous groups into the wild for over twenty years. The salmon season was about two-thirds gone for the Yukon River and it was another train ride to Whitehorse. After the baggage was transferred, the five took the train ride to Whitehorse together. When they arrived, Jim lodged them at his place and fed them dinner. The next day, the crew loaded three pack mules and saddled horses to journey up river to try their luck at salmon fishing. The ride only took about seven hours so they tried their hand at fishing before calling it a night. All the lodge members caught at least one fish, but they were leery of fishing the creek because they could see bears in the distance. Jim built a couple of fires to keep the bears away. Jim kept a lever action 30-30 in case things got too interesting.

The next day seemed fairly successful and all the fishermen were eating their fill and wondering how to pack the salmon in ice to take it home. As they were settling in around the campfires, a bear came lumbering in toward the pack animals. Jim didn't want to chance losing a mule so he shot the bear several times. He had a permit to take the bear and killing a bear was never questioned if you or a domestic animal was in danger, so they skinned the bear for the hide and roasted a piece of it over the fire. They had to use pieces of chain to suspend the roast from the spit because of the weight of the pieces.

Barney had loved the salmon. The bear was just not the same. It was greasy and tough. Barney decided bear hunting was for rugs and not for dinner. As evening wore on Barney and the other fisherman went to sleep. About 3:30 a.m. Barney was awakened by a strange noise. He looked up and saw another bear rummaging through his supplies. He didn't want to yell for fear the bear would turn on him. He took a stick and pulled a piece of the red hot chain out of the dying fire and threw it at the bear. It hit the bear on the buttocks, he roared waking the whole camp and took off running. Barney told the story to the campers.

The next day was the last for fishing and when the troop went to the stream there was a bear sitting in the stream about 300 yards away. Jim thought the way the bear was sitting was unusual so he pulled out his binoculars to take a look. When the bear heard Jim he got out of the stream and walked hurriedly away. Jim started to laugh. The bear had a brand on its rump. It was the perfect image of three links. Jim said to Barney, "I guess you made an Odd Fellow of him."

Barney replied, "Just by putting the three links mark on him?"

Jim said, "No, not just that. There are five of us here and he probably thought we were going to hold a meeting. The last time he came to our meeting we made him leave without refreshments."

The whole crew had a good laugh and packed up and left so they could get back to Whitehorse before dark.

Comments and questions are always welcomed by the Department Commander. You can contact him by email at jcupp@verizon.net or conventional mail 2 West Main Street, Suite 517, Uniontown, PA 15401-3403.
