FROM THE DESK OF THE GRAND SECRETARY

Dear Readers:

It is hard to believe summer is just about gone. This month you will be installing new officers in your lodges. I wish for all the new officers a good and productive term. Something all the new Noble Grand's should do on installation night in appoint a membership committee. It will be their job to get a program in place to attract prospective members. To get new members you must work at it. To the members of all lodges get behind your new officers, ask what you can do to help, attend the meetings of your lodge, and invite your friends and neighbors to join in the good works of being done by the Order.

If you need help contact our new membership chairman brother Harvey. You will find his address, email address, and phone number in the magazine. I am sure he would like to hear from you.

Fraternally,
William L. Locke
Grand Secretary

THALIA REBEKAH LODGE #116

The campers made flags for each cabin and entered as a group into the dining hall.

Campers and staff listening to the camp director give the opening speech.

Thalia Rebekah Lodge #116 once again had the pleasure of attending opening day at Camp JRA on Sunday, July 13, 2008.

The theme this year was the Olympics complete with opening ceremony with the arriving of the torch. Charles Danihel had the honor of running in with the torch.

Thanks to a donation from the Oddfellows arthritis committee we were able to purchase decorations for the dining hall. We bought flags of all the nations, gold medals, and of course some noisy whistles.

The children started their evening with the traditional meeting in the dining hall complete with the introduction of each cabin. As each cabin is called there is a roar from staff and campers in support of their individual cabin. The atmosphere is electric with all the excitement for the coming week.

As always there is the traditional gigolo dance. It is always started by camp director Wade Balmer and continues throughout the individual campers. It is a very infectious dance that makes everyone want to get up and participate. As we watch we find our feet tapping and bodies starting to move with the campers. It's fun to watch the new campers learn it.

Then there is the reading of the camp rules. This camp has very strict rules concerning a dress code, respect for others, and lights out (bed time). They do have fun with pranks but they must be done in a way not to injure anyone or ruin any property.

We then were served a very delicious and healthy supper. It's amazing how organized meal time is with each camper separating their plates, silverware, and garbage into separate bins when done eating. Everyone helps clean up but there is a paid staff that does dishes and serves the meal.

After eating we were put into action with serving our annual ice cream sundaes. This is something we enjoy doing as the children and staff are very appreciative. They never fail to thank us for coming. We always leave with such a sense of wishing we could do more.

The children then leave to go to the med shed for their nightly medications. It's sad to think what these young people go through just to try to alleviate the pain from arthritis which some think is just a disease for old people. Watching some of these children walk and just try to get their bodies to move is heartbreaking.

Camp JRA gives these campers the unique opportunity to be with others that face the same physical limitations. They can just be themselves and not have to explain why they take medications or give themselves injections. Also there is the emotional part of being with someone who understands what you are going through.

We think this camp is absolutely wonderful and worthy of the support the Oddfellows have given them over the years. Just think what some of these children would be missing out on if you didn't continue to support them. Keep up the good work.

FROM THE DESK OF THE DEPARTMENT COMMANDER

What About Columbus

Barney Wells was trying to plan events for the lodge. It was 1944 and the war had reduced the available entertainment options. At the entertainment committee meeting, Barney suggested a Columbus Day dinner for the lodge, with a skit to re-enact the famous landing in 1492. He suggested that the initiatory degree costumes could be modified for Columbus and his crew, but none of the costumes were appropriate for the Indians. Brother Joe Ryan was a committee member and also a member of the Improved Order of Red Men that met in the Odd Fellows Temple. He suggested the Odd Fellows and Red Men hold a joint Columbus Day dinner, with wives, and collaborate on the play.

Brother Ryan brought the matter up before his Tribe of Red Men and they agreed to the joint banquet. Because of the world war, most of the members were older and looked forward to the banquet and entertainment. The Red Men appointed a committee to work with Brother Wells to write the play. Since Barney was a high school English teacher, he was a natural to write the play. George Molinari was a member of both lodges and a high school history teacher, who took the lead in writing the skit as a representative of the Red Men. The two groups met three times and practiced their parts. Since the lodge regalia fit the Odd Fellows, they portrayed Columbus and his crew. The Red Men portrayed the Indians. The script called for a celebration like the one seen in textbooks written in the early twentieth century, with the Indians and the explorers treating each other in a civil manner.

The dinner was planned down to the last detail. October 12, 1944, fell on a Thursday so the banquet was scheduled for Friday, October 13, 1944. The lodges hired a caterer who served all courses at the table. After the tables were cleared, the Noble Grand of the Odd Fellows Lodge and the Chief of the Red Men Tribe both gave appropriate speeches. Those attending went up to the lodge room and settled in while the players robed in the anteroom. The cast of the explorers took the floor first.

Barney portrayed Columbus and Brother Molinari portrayed the Indian Chief.

Columbus walked back and forth on what was supposed to be the deck of a vessel. After a minute of pacing, one of the crew yelled, "Land ho."

Columbus pulled up a telescope and appeared to be looking at land. He assembled his crew and pointed in the direction of the past grand's station.

The Odd Fellows left the floor and the Red Men came out and assembled around the past grand's station. They were intensely looking in the where the Odd Fellows, dressed as explorers, were standing. They pointed and danced around without speaking any recognizable words.

The Odd Fellows came out, with Barney in the lead. He was holding a banner on a staff and wearing a variation of the chaplain's costume. He was trying for all the world to look like the painting of Columbus in the high school history book.

The Indians came forth to meet him, approaching cautiously.

Columbus (Barney) began, "Greetings from the King and Queen of Spain. I come to introduce you to the wonders of the modern age and bring you all the learning and knowledge of Europe."

The reply was supposed to be, "Welcome to our great land, flowing with milk and honey."

The Red Men had a little surprise planned for the Odd Fellows, and caught Barney and the other cast members off guard.

The Chief replied, "Welcome indeed. You come to steal our land, charge us too much rent for lodge rooms and make us pay for half of your banquet. If you think we are as foolish as our ancestors, you have another thought coming. We left you come in 450 years ago and you ruined the neighborhood. We had a perfect society where we hunted and fished all day and didn't pay taxes. You wanted us to work in the fields you took from us, buy everything from you at inflated prices and let you run the show. We are going to drive you out."

The Indians then began pushing the Explorers back toward the anteroom and the audience began to howl with laughter. Barney had been bested and he didn't know what to say. When they got to anteroom, Brother George reminded Barney that he was a history teacher and knew too well how things worked. Things worked out well and the two lodges planned other joint events.

Next Month, "Whose your turkey?"

CENTRE COUNTY

Picnic

State College Lodge #1032 held its picnic on August 16. We had a good attendance. After dinner we had some question and answer games which were well received. By this time next year we hope for a better well considered answer to the picnic idea. Maybe a large combined event with all county lodges participating. It could move around the county to different venues. There are certainly a number of nice spots to put on a good event. This could be a show time for Odd Fellowship. Men and women together can put a great face on our cause. Let me repeat myself, Please let your thoughts be known on this matter. The atmosphere is changing on just what constitutes Centre County Odd Fellowship. We must think about just what is our area and what we can do for the greater good of Odd Fellowship.

I challenge all of you involved with our area to think about just what it is we need. I expect no less than 15 responses to this challenge.

Degree Work!

We can't wait for somebody else. Let us continue to press this issue. Men of Centre County are practicing the fourth Wednesday at Windmere Hall. The initiatory degree is the thrust right now but who knows what else can happen. Here again, ideas are most welcome. Let me hear from you.

Fundraising

At our last meeting 1032 worked on this subject for some time. We had originally wanted to start dinners in September. When we looked closely at the calendar and all the events already scheduled it turned out not to be such a good idea. Consequently the first dinner this year will be on Saturday, October 25. It will be a spaghetti dinner with tossed salad, rolls, drinks and dessert. We will start serving at 5:00 PM and go until 7:00 PM. All able bodied 1032 members are therefore on call for duty. Saturday activities will begin at 11:00 AM. Help will be needed from then on. Some help will be needed the day before. Details will be forthcoming in next months letter. We will gratefully accept help from any Odd Fellow or Rebekah that is interested in supporting the charities that we support. Let me tell you again who they are: Centre Volunteers in Medicine, State College Meals on Wheels, Salvation Army, State College Food Banke, Women's Resource Center, Alpha Fire Company, Centre Life Link EMS and Ambulance Service. When you help us you are indirectly helping all these great people.

Practice for the work on August 28. Official Visit and induction of a new member. Lady Emily #452 added Barb Deibler to the roll. See you in Church.

OBITUARIES

A Little Story

This is a story about four people named Everybody, Somebody, Anybody and Nobody.

There was an important job to be done and Everybody was sure that Somebody would do it.

Anybody could have done it, but Nobody did it.

Somebody got angry about that, because it was Everybody's job.

Everybody thought Anybody could do it, but Nobody realized that Everybody wouldn't do it.

It ended up that Everybody blamed Somebody when Nobody did what Anybody could have done.

BROTHER DENNIS R. MILLER ANSWERS FINAL ROLL CALL

Brother Dennis R. (Denny) Miller went to be with his Creator on 11 July 2008.

Denny was initiated into Alma Lodge #523, Johnstown, PA, on 16 April 1955 and into the William F. Packer Encampment #127 on 12 May 1956. He served as Noble Grand and Chief Patriarch in 1958 and was once again serving as Chief Patriarch when he passed away.

Denny was a veteran of the U.S. Navy and a registered professional engineer, retiring from Bethlehem Steel Corp. after a career spanning 33 years. He also served as Public Works Director for the City of Johnstown. Denny was very active in the Bethany Presbyterian Church where he held many offices over many years, including chief cook for quite a few church dinners when he would prepare and serve his famous Swiss steak.

In the Lodge, Denny was a "go to" guy when matters requiring engineering expertise came up. Alma Lodge is a four-story commercial building with businesses occupying space on Main Street as well as on the second floor. Denny was frequently called upon for guidance regarding heating and air conditioning systems, plumbing upgrades, the elevator replacement and a myriad of other building maintenance problems associated with a building the size of Alma Lodge. Denny always gave of his time and engineering acumen to help the trustees make the proper decisions.

Odd Fellowship does not mean only conducting ourselves as good Odd Fellows during a Lodge meeting. It's a way of life taught during Lodge meetings but to be carried out by Odd Fellows in the every day course of our lives. Denny epitomized Odd Fellowship. He was, indeed, grateful to his Creator, faithful to his Country, and fraternal to his fellow man as he lived his life outside of his Lodge.

Denny's illness caused him a great deal of pain as it progressed. Sometimes he could hardly walk his legs hurt so badly. But, he came to Lodge and continued to act as our Chief Patriarch until it got so bad he was hospitalized. Even knowing the likely outcome of his illness, Denny almost always had a funny story to pass on to the Brothers and very few enjoyed a good joke more than he did.

I have noticed that there are certain deceased Odd Fellows whose names still come up at Lodge meetings even though they passed away more than 20 years ago. They are remembered for something they used to do; sometimes good things, sometimes not so good. Dennis R. Miller will be remembered in Alma Lodge for the good that he did for many, many years. I know the younger members will hear his name brought up in discussions for a long time. Perhaps something like, "I wish Denny Miller were hear to ask about that. He could tell us what to do right off." Denny, you won't be forgotten.

Denny was survived by his wife Janet, daughter Cheryl, grandson Tyler, as well as two brothers, in-laws, many nieces and nephews, and the current Brothers of Alma Lodge.

Respectively Submitted,

Glenn L. Campbell

A MESSAGE FROM THE GRAND PATRIARCH

Brothers and Sisters,

Well, they let me back in the good old US of A. Thank goodness! I had some doubts when the border patrol person asked John where we were born in Canada after we handed her our passports, but we made it home safe and sound.

Every journey, generally, has some excitement. While we were traveling through Indiana on I-90, on the way home, on a Sunday evening, approximately 5:30 p.m., the alternator in our car went out. We coasted off to the berm of the highway and contacted AAA. A tow truck came approximately 1½ hours later, put our car on his flatbed, picked up another vehicle which he pulled and towed us to his garage. I was truly depressed, imagining it would take all day Monday to get the car fixed; however, we found a gem of a repairman. He went to an auto parts store, got an alternator, installed it and had us on our way by 10:00 p.m. Was I ever grateful!

Back to Sovereign Grand Lodge and the events at session. We arrived in Winnipeg on Sunday shortly after Noon, after being on the road for 2½ days. While traveling through North Dakota and Canada, we saw acres of wheat fields, corn fields, and sunflowers. I never saw so many sunflowers in my life. Of course, when we got to our hotel, all of the Patriarchs Militant were in uniform standing on the entrance stairs waiting to catch a shuttle to the Delta Winnipeg (the hotel where the Sovereign Grand Lodge Sessions were held). John and I had to check in before we could participate in anything. Once we got everything unloaded, we walked up to the Delta Winnipeg (about a ½ mile) and attended the memorial service. Then John had to practice so he could participate in the opening ceremonies Sunday evening. John participated in uniform, carrying a flag at the opening ceremonies.

I did not go to Sovereign Grand Lodge on the first day, but I did attend as a visitor on Tuesday, the day elections were held for Sovereign Grand Warden. The election of the Sovereign Grand Warden and the Sovereign Grand Secretary was a very interesting experience. George Glover from Rhode Island was elected Sovereign Grand Warden and Terry Barrett was re-elected as Sovereign Grand Secretary. John and I spoke with Brother Glover during lunch after his election. He went to college at Edinboro, PA and also attended Lodge at Edinboro while he was a student. He also mentioned that he had dated a girl from Connellsville while he was at Edinboro. When he is Sovereign Grand Master, he hopes to make a visit to Edinboro Lodge.

Tuesday afternoon John had to practice for the General Military Council Installation, which was held on Tuesday evening. At the Installation he marched in the army of Patriarchs Militant and also served as the escort for the Vice President of the International Association of Ladies Auxiliary Patriarchs Militant. The Installation was quite long and John was quite busy that evening. Our own Lady Mae Haussler was installed on Tuesday evening as well as Joseph Strausser. Lady Mae will become President of the IALAPM in 2010 and Patriarch Joe will become General Commanding in 2009.

I did not go back to any more of the Sovereign Grand Lodge Session meetings. It is somewhat hard to follow if you are not a representative, since most of the work of Sovereign Grand Lodge is done in afternoon committee meetings.

The General Military Council wrapped up at Noon on Thursday. Thursday afternoon John and I toured the Royal Canadian Mint. Then, Thursday evening was the Installation of the Sovereign Grand Lodge and the International Association of Rebekah Assembly officers. That was a lovely event. Not quite as long as the General Military Council Installation.

Friday we started for home and did some sightseeing along the way. We stopped at the Mall of America in Minneapolis Minnesota; the House on the Rock in Spring Green, Wisconsin; and the Studebaker Museum in South Bend, Indiana. We truly had a great time and met many new friends. Guess it is on to Santa Clara, California next year.

Emilie J. Cupp, Grand Patriarch

HOPKINS LODGE NO. 87

The Officers of Hopkins Lodge No. 87, of Bristol, were installed on October 8th by D.D.G.M. Franklin Spitler. Plans were discussed for the trip to Camden, N.J., on November 7th. Two bus loads are already assured and it is expected that enough members will go along to fill the third. This Lodge stands out as a remarkable example of recovery, having initiated twenty-eight in the past year. And do they shine in Sports? They took about every prize at Willow Grove and the Ball Club has just concluded a most successful season.

SOUTHEASTERN PAST GRAND'S MEET

A large delegation of Odd Fellows attended the regular meeting of the Past Grand's Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania held at Sellersville on October 3rd.

A chartered bus took care of those without automobile transportation and those traveling in the bus with the Philadelphia boys need not be told that a fine time was had.

The Grand master, Harry C. Stephens, and Grand warden, H. E. Robinson, Attended and gave interesting talks.

ADAMS COUNTY

The Adams County Past Grand's Association of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows met in joint session with the Carroll County, Maryland, Past Grand's Association Monday evening, October 12th, in Sylvania Lodge, No. 613, headquarters, East King Street. C. D. Bream, Bendersville, President of the

Adams County Association Presided. America was sung by the assembly with Miss Pauline Koontz, Frederick, MD. At the piano. The address of welcome was given by W. David Sheely, of the local Lodge. SOUTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA PAST GRAND'S ASSOCIATIONS

Two hundred attended the October meeting in Sellersville. Various reports were read, many announcements made, such as Installations, Card Parties, Banquets, No. 7th, Degree demonstration, Pittsburgh visitation.

The Grand Master and Grand Warden each gave an interesting address. Webster Grim, P.G.M., Franklin Spitler, and Jesse Everitt were some of the many Bucks County representation present. Several new members joined and quite a few former members renewed their membership as Hoosiers for the A. I. S. E. PA. I. O. O. F. unit

The newly elected President and also his traveling companion Secretary of Lehigh Valley P. G. Association were welcomed and spoke of the increasing need for such organizations. Philadelphia professional entertainers gave an hour of laughter, wit, and dexterous skill. Sellersville Lodge deserved thanks for its 100 per cent hospitality.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs helped less fortunate students of northeastern PA start the school year out right by providing backpacks filled with school supplies. Along with notebooks, pencils, pens and folders, other essential school supplies and even some snacks were placed in the "over stuffed" book bags.

With financial help from Thistle Lodge #512 in Pittston and Askam Lodge #899 in Wilkes-Barre, Thalia Rebekah Lodge #116 did the shopping and were able to supply 80 backpacks to elementary and middle school students of the area.

ARTHRITIS COMMITTEE

The Goblins Are Coming

Can you believe that summer 2008 has come and gone and Labor Day is now another day in history? Now it's time to think of ghosts and hobgoblins, witches and vampires or all the other "in" costumes for this year that will come to your door on trick or treat night. Do you realize that many of the children with arthritis can't even grab on to their pails or bags to go out and participate in Halloween festivities? The Arthritis Committee wants to remind you that those with arthritis need your help. Your donations help the kids with arthritis that go to Camp JRA each summer and they help the adults with arthritis who participate in the adult programs offered by the PA Arthritis Chapters. Keep up the good work.

As we continue to help those with arthritis, work with your lodge brothers and sisters to find new ways to raise money and then send your donations to help with Camp JRA, or the general fund to Nevin Adams, Treasurer, 951 Shoemakersville Road, Shoemakersville, PA 19555-9010. Some of you have asked about receiving the Arthritis magazine. If you would send a personal donation of $25. or more to Nevin Adams, with a note (that includes your address) stating that you want the magazine, he will forward the information to the proper person for you.

Volunteers are needed by the Chapters for their local activities. The Jingle Bell Runs/Walks will be coming up soon - call the Chapter nearest you and find out what you can do. Is your Lodge able to help? The contact addresses and telephone numbers are:

The weather cooperated and we had a warm summer evening. There was lots of food and a good evening of Odd Fellowship.

Don't Find Fault

Don't find fault with the man who limps or stumbles along the road, unless you've worn the shoes he wears or struggled beneath his load. There may be tacks in his shoes that hurt, though hidden away from view, or the load he bears put on your back might cause you to stumble too.

Don't sneer at the man who is down today, unless you have felt the blow that caused his fall or felt the same that only the fallen know. You may be strong, but still the blows that were his if dealt to you in the self-same way in the self-same time might cause you to stagger too.

Don't be too harsh with the man who sins or pelt him with words of stone, unless you are sure, yea, doubly sure that you have no sins of your own. For, you know, perhaps if the tempter's voice should whisper as soft to you as it did to him when he astray, t'would cause you to falter too.

MACKINAW LODGE #380

Letter to the Editor:

Pennsylvania Odd Fellow and Rebekah Magazine

As a member of Mackinaw Lodge #380, I feel I must respond to the article and picture (Sept. 2008) about our Lodge. The tone of the article is both sarcastic and vindictive, and it does not present all the facts.

Both the Grand Master and the Grand Secretary were informed by our Lodge Secretary and our Past Noble Grand that the scheduled visitation was not a good date and that a quorum might not be present for a meeting. It was suggested that another time be set for the visitation.

Knowing this information, the Grand Master and Staff chose to come to New Bloomfield. Should they have been "very suprised"?

Odd Fellowship is not dead in New Bloomfield, but the tone of articles and attitudes such as these do not reflect or promote the principles of our Order. They may, however, contribute to its demise!

Fraternally,

Gary Foose, a Brother #380
